NEED FOR THE RULE(S):

2023 Senate Bill 536 (SB 536) was adopted during the 2023 Legislative Session and establishes disclosure and care obligations for sales of annuities to prospective purchasers. SB 536 closely aligns with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) updated Model Law #275 - Suitability in Annuity Transactions Model Regulation. In 2020, the NAIC revised Model Law #275 language by incorporating consumer disclosure and care obligations for annuity sales, a higher level of consumer care compared to the previous product suitability standard. Under these standards, insurance producers, insurers, and securities-brokers must meet specific care obligation in recommending products to consumers, taking into account the circumstances known at the time an annuity product recommendation is made.

More than 10 years ago, the Department of Consumer and Business Services (DCBS) adopted the earlier version of the NAIC's Model Law #275 via rulemaking (OAR 836-080-0170 to -0193), establishing a product suitability standard.

Regarding OAR 836-080-0170 to -0193,

SB 536 duplicates nearly all of the language currently in rules and adds or revises language where necessary to establish the disclosure and care obligations. In effect, SB 536 supersedes existing rule language pertaining to annuity product suitability. Additionally, rulemaking is required to effectuate certain components of the bill, including adopting forms that are the same or similar to NAIC Model Law #275:

- Insurance Agent (Producer) Disclosure for Annuities,
- Consumer Refusal to Provide Information, and
- Consumer Decision to Purchase an Annuity Not Based on a Recommendation.

JUSTIFICATION OF TEMPORARY FILING:

Rulemaking associated with 2023 Senate Bill 536 must take effect on January 1, 2024. Passage of 2023 Senate Bill 536 creates new disclosure and care obligations for producers, agents, and insurers for recommendations and sales of individual annuities, requiring modification or repeal of numerous existing administrative rules rendered obsolete by the bill. Additionally, new forms detailing producer, agent, and insurer consumer care and disclosure requirements were created as Exhibits 1-3 and Exhibits 1A-3A to the draft rules. Based upon comments and input received from the Rulemaking Advisory Committee (RAC), DCBS staff made several edits to the draft rules and exhibit documents and initiated an internal review process. Due to the length and complexity of the rulemaking, the proposed rule text and exhibit forms were not finalized in time for DCBS to file permanent rulemaking effective January 1. DCBS staff will continue to engage the RAC members to initiate a permanent rulemaking process in early 2024. The permanent rules and Exhibit 1-3 forms will contain finalized language governing disclosure and care obligations for producers, agents, and insurers when recommending and selling individual annuities.

- ~~(a) The consumer has been reasonably informed of various features of the annuity, such as the potential surrender period and surrender charge, potential tax penalty if the consumer sells, exchanges, surrenders or annuitizes the annuity, mortality and expense fees, investment advisory fees, potential charges for and features of riders, limitations on interest returns, insurance and investment components and market risk;¶¶~~

- ~~(4) Except as permitted under section (3) of this rule, an insurer shall not issue an annuity recommended to a consumer unless there is a reasonable basis to believe the annuity is suitable based on the consumer's suitability information.¶¶~~
- ~~(5)(a) Except as provided under subsection (b) of this section, neither an insurance producer, nor an insurer, shall have any obligation to a consumer under subsection A or C related to any annuity transaction if:¶¶~~
- ~~(A) No recommendation is made;¶¶~~

- ~~(b) Obtain a customer signed statement documenting a customer's refusal to provide suitability information, if any; and¶¶~~

(c) Obtain a customer signed statement acknowledging that an annuity transaction is not recommended if a customer decides to enter into an annuity transaction that is not based on the insurance producer's or insurer's recommendation.¶¶

(7)(a) An insurer shall establish a supervision system that is reasonably designed to achieve the insurer's and its insurance producers' compliance with OAR 836-080-0170 to 836-080-0190. The supervision system must include but need not be limited to, the following:¶¶

(A) The insurer shall maintain reasonable procedures to inform its insurance producers of the requirements of OAR 836-080-0170 to 836-080-0190 and shall incorporate the requirements of OAR 836-080-0170 to 836-080-0190 into relevant insurance producer training manuals;¶¶

An electronic or other system may be designed to require additional review only of those transactions identified for additional review by the selection criteria;¶¶

(E) The insurer shall maintain a reasonable procedure to detect recommendations that are not suitable. The procedure may include, but need not be limited to, confirmation of consumer suitability information, systematic customer surveys, interviews, confirmation letters and programs of internal monitoring. (b)(A) Nothing in this section restricts an insurer from contracting for performance of a function (including maintenance of procedures) required under subsection (a) of this section. An insurer is responsible for taking appropriate corrective action and may be subject to sanctions and penalties under OAR 836-080-0185 regardless of whether the insurer contracts for performance of a function and regardless of the insurer's compliance with subparagraph (B) of this paragraph.¶¶

(9)(a) Sales made in compliance with FINRA requirements pertaining to suitability and supervision of annuity transactions shall satisfy the requirements under OAR 836-080-0170 to 836-080-0190. This subsection applies to FINRA broker-dealer sales of variable annuities and fixed annuities if the suitability and supervision is similar to those applied to variable annuity sales. However, nothing in this subsection shall limit the director's ability to investigate and enforce the provisions of 836-080-0170 to 836-080-0190.¶¶

(b) In order for subsection (b) to apply, an insurer shall:¶¶

(B) Provide to the FINRA member broker-dealer information and reports that are reasonably appropriate to assist the FINRA member broker-dealer to maintain its supervision system.
