Subject: Trillium Sale

I know little about the buyer in this proposed sale except that it is a large and fast growing national firm that expects to grow rapidly to control large segments of the health industry. Our theory in setting up the local CCOs was that they be local and respond to local needs and conditions, something that a large out-of-state company cannot, in the long run, do.

The State of Oregon should carefully and sceptically study the buyer and extract strong guarantees that are enforceable before allowing this sale to go through. Otherwise, the transaction should be denied.
